Note: Some personal data is mandatory in order for the performance of the contract. In the event you decide not to provide the mandatory personal data we will be unable to provide you with a certain service or product. We will indicate to you where any personal data required is mandatory or optional.

Why we are processing your data? Our Legal Basis.

In order for Hastings to provide you with any of the insurance services listed above, Hastings needs to collect personal data to be able to provide a quotation, arrange a transactions on your behalf, administer, manage your policy and assist with claims as part of our service.

Our reason (lawful reason) for processing your data under the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is:

- Legal basis – Hastings needs to collect and process your data on the basis that it is necessary to do so to enter into and/or to perform a contract with you.

We are committed to ensuring that the information we collect and you give us is appropriate for this purpose, and does not constitute an invasion of your privacy.

How will Hastings use the personal data is collects about me?

We will process (collect, store and use) the information you provide in a manner compatible with the EU's General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR). We will endeavour to keep your information accurate and up to date, and not keep it for longer than is necessary.

Special Categories of personal data.

Where we collect any special categories of personal data, known as 'sensitive data' ie data about your health or information in relation to your criminal convictions such as penalty points/driving convictions, this will only be requested and processed where it is necessary for the performance of an insurance contract and will only be processed by way of a) explicit consent b) assessment of risk c) for the prevention of fraud d) for the establishment, exercise, enforcement or defence of legal claims or e) to protect the vital interests of a person.

Who we are sharing your data with?

As an Insurance Broker we share your data with the insurance companies we deal with in order to obtain a quotation, issue renewal terms and provide alternative quotations for you. We may also be required to share your data for example, with the National Vehicle and Driver File, Personal Injuries Assessment Board or other third parties involved in administering your insurance contract including any loss assessors/adjustors, witnesses to any incidents/accidents you are involved in, claimants and their legal or medical representatives. These third parties are obliged to keep your details secure, and use them only to fulfil the service they provide on your behalf. In order to fulfil our legal and regulatory obligations we may also share your personal data with any authorities for example: The Data Protection Commission, Revenue Commissioners, Central Bank of Ireland, Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman, our legal advisors or the Garda Síochána. When we believe we have been given false or misleading information, or we suspect criminal activity we must record this and inform the relevant authorities. Your data is held within the Hastings branch network and may be shared with any providers or suppliers where the firm outsources the processing of certain functions, for example: Auditors, Legal advisors, IT/Software providers, Payment Processes or other third parties involved in administering your contract. Your data may also be shared with any party where you have given us permission to speak with them ie, a relative or friend, any party named under your insurance.

In the instance where we have to transfer data outside the European Economic Area (EEA) to help provide you with products and services, we will do so in compliance with obligations under Data Protection Legislation and would expect the same standard of data protection is applied outside of the EEA to these transfers and the use of the information, to ensure your rights are protected.

In certain contracts of insurance where, for whatever reason, you cannot be found or you become insolvent, or the court finds it just and equitable to so order, then your rights under the contract may be transferred to and vested in the third party even though they are not a party to the contract of insurance. The third party has a right to recover from the insurer the amount of any loss suffered by them. Where the third party reasonably believes that you as policyholder have incurred a liability the third party may be entitled to seek and obtain information from the insurer or from any other person who is able to provide it concerning:

- the existence of the insurance contract,
- who the insurer is,
- the terms of the contract, and
- whether the insurer has informed the insured person that the insurer intends to refuse liability under the contract.

Data Subjects Rights:

Hastings facilitate your rights under Data Protection Legislation to address any concerns or queries about the processing of your personal data. At any point while we are in possession of or processing your personal data, you, the data subject, have the following rights:

- Right of access – you have the right to request a copy of the information that we hold about you;
- Rights of Rectification – you have a right to correct data that we hold about you that is inaccurate. In certain cases you are obliged in the terms of your insurance contract to inform us of any changes ie, change of address;
- Right to Withdraw Consent – you have the right to withdraw your consent to your data being processed where we use consent as the legal basis;
- Right to be forgotten – you have the right to have your personal data deleted or to be forgotten. However we can only delete your data in certain circumstances and there may be instances where we cannot provide a deletion ie, an ongoing claim;
- Right to restriction of processing – where certain conditions apply you have a right to restrict the processing of your data;
- Right of portability – you have the right to have the data we hold about you transferred to another organisation;
- Right to object – you have the right to object to certain types of processing such as direct marketing;
- Right to be excluded from profiling or automated processing; you also have the right to be subject to the legal effects of automated processing or profiling;

All of the above requests will be forwarded on should there be a third party involved as we have indicated in the processing of your personal data.

Data security

Hastings intent is to strictly protect the security of your personal information; honour your choice for its intended use; and carefully protect your data from loss, misuse, unauthorised access or disclosure, alteration or destruction. We have taken appropriate steps to safeguard and secure information we collect online, including the use of encryption when collecting or transferring sensitive data such as credit card information. However, you should always take into consideration that the internet is an open forum and that data may flow across networks with little or no security measures, and therefore such information may be accessed by people other than those you intended to access it.

Additional information we are providing you with to ensure we are transparent and fair with our processing.

Retention of your Personal Data

Data will not be held for longer than is necessary for the purpose(s) for which it was obtained. Hastings will process personal data in accordance with our retention schedule. For the majority of Policy Data, this is 7 years after the relationship ends. If you do not incept cover for an insurance policy, your data will be kept for 18 months and processed in line with this statement. In certain cases we are obliged to hold onto records for longer periods, examples of which are public liability insurance and pension details. We do so in line with our regulatory obligations.

Failure to provide further information

If we are collecting your data for a contract and you cannot provide this data the consequences of this could mean the contract cannot be completed or details are incorrect.

Profiling & Automated Decision Making

We use automated decision-making, including profiling, in the following situations:

- a) Risk Profiling – To establish a customer’s attitude to investment risk (relating to pensions and investments);
- b) Establishing affordability and providing quotations for financial services products;
- c) Providing quotes through our quote providers based on the information provided to us. The Quote generated is based on the logic and criteria set by insurers. An example of this would be in the case of penalty points on an individuals driving licence, the more points the higher the premium would be quoted;
- d) Profiling for Marketing purposes – When we seek to contact you about other services, as outlined above, we run automated queries on our computerised database to establish the suitability of proposed products or services to your needs. An example would be the identification of customers who hold motor insurance but do not hold household insurance.
- e) Any form of risk assessments for Fraud Prevention/Anti-Money Laundering purpose or other Legal/Regulatory reasons.

You have the right to object to profiling in certain cases only ie, where it is not required for the performance of the contract or not required for any legal or regulatory reason.

Additional Processing

If we intend to further process your personal data for a purpose other than for which the data was collected, we will provide this information prior to processing this data. Where we have your consent to send you information about any other products, services or offers which Hastings would like to communicate to you, we may contact you through a variety of means such as mobile phone, landline, email, SMS (text) and post. This can include you being contacted on or about the anniversary of your policy lapsing or your quote request. It is always your choice whether you want to receive any marketing based information. You can also change your preferences of how we contact you or amend how you receive any marketing at any time by calling your local branch or emailing Dataprotection@hastings.ie. If you choose not to receive this type of information, it will not affect any of the services provided to you, now or in the future.

Complaints

In the event that you are unhappy with the way Hastings has handled your personal data, we encourage you to email us in the first instance at Dataprotection@hastings.ie or write to Data Protection, Hastings Insurance Brokers, The Octagon, Westport, Co Mayo. You also have a right to lodge a complaint with the Protection Commission - info@dataprotection.ie.

Contact Us

Your privacy is important to us. If you have any comments or questions regarding this statement, please contact data protection on 098 27227 or email Dataprotection@hastings.ie.

Privacy Policy Statement Changes

We may change this privacy policy from time to time. When such a change is made, we will post a revised version on our website. Changes will be effective from the point at which they are posted. It is your responsibility to review this privacy policy periodically so you are aware of any changes. By using our services you agree to this privacy policy.
